

LAUNCESTON PERINATAL MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS NETWORK

Australian Perinatal Loss PROFESSIONALS NETWORK
www.perinatallossprofessionals.com.au

Robyn McKinnon
CONSULTANCY
& COUNSELLING SERVICES
www.rm counselling.com.au

Mental health professionals and students are invited to join a community of practice of like-minded multi-disciplinary professionals in Launceston and Northern Tasmania. The network plans to meet quarterly as the Launceston Perinatal Mental Health Professionals Network and aims to explore all areas of Perinatal Mental Health, with guest speakers sharing on key topics.

Our next meeting will be:

The role of Clinical Genetics in pregnancy planning and management

About the session:

This presentation will cover current RANZCOG guidelines about pre-conception carrier screening and screening tests in pregnancy. Julia will also provide an overview of the role of the genetic counsellor in investigations for infertility, diagnosis of fetal anomalies, pregnancy loss and pregnancy after loss, and newborn screening (supported with case examples).

About the speaker:

Julia Mansour is a Certified Genetic Counsellor and a Fellow of the Human Genetics Society of Australasia. She works full time with the Tasmanian Clinical Genetics Service, which is a statewide service. Julia is based at the RHH, but sees patients at LGH twice a month. Prior to living and working in Tasmania, Julia worked as a Genetic Counsellor in Canberra and Perth. She has also worked in policy development and implementation in the Commonwealth Department of Health, and is admitted to the Supreme Court of the ACT as a lawyer.

Meeting details:

Date	Tuesday, 10 September 2019
Time	6:00 pm – 8:00 pm
Venue	Antenatal and Gynaecology Outpatients Multipurpose Meeting Room Level 3, Launceston General Hospital, Charles Street Launceston TAS 7250
Catering	Refreshments provided please RSVP to https://www.mhpn.org.au/NetworkMeetingRSVP/1815